Twenty-Five Thousand of Them Parade in New York.

OBSERVANCE OF THE SECOND DAY IN THE COLUMBIAN PRIES.

All the Schools of the City in Line-Indian Students a Marked Feature of the Procession-Part Allotted to the Girls - Flags, Music and Cheer

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 .- With the bright flash pur of thick, white smoke and heavy boom of cannon, old Fort Columbus, on Governor's Island, opened the secular part of the celebration of the 400th huniversary of its namesake's greatest deed at 6:05 o'clock this morning. The cannot shot was merely the sunrise gun, but it was singularly appropriate that it should come on this day of all others for the fort named after Christopher Columbus.

New York is in gala dress to-day. Its streets, its public buildings, its stores and warehouses, its homes are gay with flags and ing through its streets, the cars that roll up and down its avenues, the trains that puff along the elevated roads; the very horses are decked with flags in honor of Christopher

. General rejoicing and banquet. The prayers and religious exercises on Satand Sunday-participated in by all creeds and denominations - were fitly followed by an equally cosmopolitan demonstration of the educational forces which have given the New World its strongest and upward impetus. Results of more than 250 years of educational work were represented in the parade for the first school founded by the old Dutch settlers in 1633 in that part of New Amsterdam, now known as West Seventy-seventh street, is still in existence, and is called the School of the Reformed Church, To-day New York owns 100 public school houses, representing an estimated value in sites and buildings of over $15,000,000, and provides education in its grammar schools for more tuan 260,000 pupils, boys and girls.

At 11 o'clock Col. David 8. Brown, Grand Marshal of the school and college parade, gave the order to march, and nearly twenty-five thousand pairs of legs were soon executing the command. The immense parade started at Fifty-seventh street and Fifth avenue and marched to seventeenth street, then across to Fourth avenue and through Fourteenth street to Fifth avenue. As the long line of marchers turned into Fourteenth street loud cheers went up from the Union Square free stands and from the dense crowd on the ground and inside the buildings. Alongside the marchers, and some distance apart, were the doctors who had volunteered their services. After passing under the Washington arch to University place the pro-At 11 o'clock Col. David S. AMERICAN FLAGS.

In the distribution of American flags to the scholars under the direction of the Executive Committee on Schools and Colleges, the flags to a large extent forming the pass-key to participation in the parade, care was taken that none should be given to boys under 12 years of age, but lest any of the weaker ones should fall by the wayside in the long line of murch marked out, surgeons and ambulances were in attendance at convenient locations.

The girl scholars, who were denied participations.

The girl scholars, who were denied participation in the parade, were assigned a peculiarly appropriate and ornamental part in the proceedings. Artistically grouped on a stand in the Reservoir Square, at the junction of Fifth avenue and Forty-second street, were nearly 1,700 pretty faced school girls, each wearing a liberty cap and costumed in red, white and blue prespectively. The tableaux had been so arranged beforehand that on the approach of the procession almost instantaneously each one of the smiling, bright-faced children so disposed themselves and their costumes as to present the effect of the American shield, with three American flags arristically bunched on each side of it.

The fluttering, quivering motions of the admirably arranged bands of colors, as 1,700 sweet girl voices sang "The Star-spangled Banner" and other patriotic songs, while their galiant boy feilow students stamped past with quickened step and ringing cheers must have left a lasting impression of the Columbian School Day celebration on the minds of the thousands of the rising generation.

On the east side a light, effective tableau. The girl scholars, who were denied partici-on the east side a light, effective tableau was presented by 1,600 girls of the Catholic parochial schools, and on a neighboring stand 500 tiny little waifs belonging to the Children's Aid Society waved their miniature American flags as the procession passed by. But the feature of the parade, which perhaps attracted more attention than any other along the line of march, was the march of, not "Six Little Indian Boys," but 300 of them from the Carlisle (Pa.) Indian Industrial School, accompanied by their own band them from the Carlisle (Fa.) Indian Indus-trial School, accompanied by their own band of music and partly dressed in Indian cos-tume, partly in the uniform of their school. These sturdy young warriors of the different tribes, who are fighting a way to civilization for themselves and their race by means of practical education in agricultural and the practical education in agricultural and the mechanical arts as well as in the ordinary grammar school methods of study, had been drilled and trained for exhibition in Chicago in the Columbian opening ceremonies there. They admirably flustrated the fact that education and milder and more humanizing methods than those originally pursued are surely and even rapidly elevating in the methods than those originally pursued are surely and even rapidly elevating in the scale of civilization the race whom Columbus found in sole possession of the country he claimed by right of Christian discovery.

There was one other reflection which impressed itself upon all those among the spectators of to-day's parade who had witnessed the memorable encampment of the G. A. R., in Washington, which was that while in that wonderfully vigorous and well preserved body of men the United States had a veteran reserve force of which the greatest European military power might be proud, in these scholars and students there was a young growth of patriotism which promised the future peace and security of the country.

promised the THE ROUTE.

The route of the procession was from the neighborhood of Fifth avenue and Twenty seventh street near the entrance of Central Park, down the avenue to Seventeenth street and Union square, thence around the square to Fourteenth street, to Fifth avenue again and down that to Fifth avenue again and down that thoroughfare to Washington square, West Fourth street and Broadway, at which points the signal to disband was given. The grammer-school boys gathered in their respective school buildings early in the morning and marched up Fifth avenue to about Fiftleth street and then turned and began their march over the allotted route. The other divisions formed chiefly in the vicinity of Fifty-ninth street.

It was a perfect day for brisk marching. The rainstorms of saturday night and Sunday had simply cleared the air without damage to any of the decorations, except a few of cheap cotton bunting, against which the Committee on Arrangements had issued warning.

Bright sunshine and cool breezes had replaced the lowering skies and the city looked its best. All the numerous public stands, with the exception of a few seats reserved in Madison Square, were for this day only thrown open free. The immense attendance of strangers was a forecast of what may be expected when the climax of the celebration is reached on Wednesday.

A battalion of "the finest," of course,

A battalion of "the finest," of course

A battalion of "the finest," of course, headed the procession, which was timed to start at 10 a.m., and was fairly punctual.
Following in carriages came the Committee on Arrangements, the School Commissioners, the Board of Education; Mr. Hunt, the City Superintendent of Public Schools; Mr. John Jasper, Mayor Grant and other distinguished guests. The Mayor, the Grand Marshal, Capt. David S. Brown; and Charles Guggenheimer dropped out of the procession at Washington Square and reviewed it from that point.

As the decorations of the city approach

As the decorations of the city approach completion they grow rapidly in effect. Expense has nowhere been spared, but better even than lavish expenditure is the general manifestation of good taste that prevails. In this the admirable recommendations of the committee on taste as the harmony of colors and good designs has been of great benefit. There is an absence of cheap advisting designs. Patriotism is put forward as benefit. There is an absence of cheap advising designe. Patriotism is put forward as the inspiring motive. All the decorations of the clubs and churches, of paintial business buildings, public edifices and private dwellings are in unison and display a completeness on the general effect which opens up a vista of immense possibilities for New York City in the decorative way in the future.

York City in the decorative way in the future.

The magnificent proportions of the stately new buildings erected in late years along the line of all principal streets, the variety of the materials employed to give a diversity of softened tints and tones as a background for the brilliant views displayed such as can be equalled nowhere else on this Continent and in very few cities in Europe. Add to these advantages the inestimable gifts of a clear atmosphere charged with the ozone of the Atlantic and free from polution of coal soot or dust, and the combination is one that cannot be surpassed. The hundreds of thousands of strangers thronging the city many of them now realize for the first time how exceedingly beautiful a city "Newest New York" is.

ON THE REVIEWING STAND.

The presidential reviewing stand in Madison Square, opposite the Worth statue, was pleasantly shaded by pink striped awnings supplementing the fall foliage of the trees in the square. The stands stretching to right and left of the presidential dals and on the opposite side of the avenue the entire length of the square were thronged with spectators. and left of the pressure and left of the square were thronged with spectators of the square were thronged with spectators who were admitted by ticket only, and who gathered early and waited patiently for the passing show. Brilliant gonfalons were hung across the streets from Twenty-third to Twenty-sixth streets, the Hoffman House, the Madison Square Bank building and other imposing edifices facing the reviewing party, were fairly covered with artistic decorations, making the scene a very brilliant one.

TREASON DEFINED

Jury Charged by the Chief Justice of Pennsylvania.

PROCEEDINGS IN THE HOMESTEAD RIOT CASES TO-DAY.

den Have a Right to Band Together for Mutual Aid, but Organized Resistance to Law Is Treason-The Highest Legal Authority in the State of Pennsylvania Called In.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 10.-The unusual specacle of the Chief Justice of the Suprem Court of the State sitting in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of account of the State was Court this morning when Chief Justice Paxton charged the Grand Jury as to what constitutes treason against the States in the cases against the Home stead strikers' Advisory Committee. Upon the bench sat the Chief Justice, Judges Stowe, McClung, Por-ter and Kennedy, while in the clerk's portion sat Judge Slagle. The room was crowded almost to suffocation when court opened, Judge Kennedy turned to the Grand-jury and said that charges of treason having been made against certain persons, it seemed meet for the County Court to request the highest judicial officer of the State to deliver the charge. After detailing the causes lead ing up to the Homestead strike, Justice Pax-

"The mutual right of the parties to con ract in regard to wages and the character of the employment, whether by the piece or by as any other right which we enjoy under the enstitution and laws of this State. It is a right which belongs to every citizen, laborer r capitalist, and it is the plain duty of the State to protect them in the enjoyment of Coming to the formation of the Advisory Committee and the part taken in it by the strike, he said:

"It is alleged that the Advisory Committee did more than to induce others not to accept employment from the company; that it allowed no persons to enter the mills of the Carnegie Steel Co., and even permitted no strangers to enter the town of Homestead without its consent; that it arranged an organization of a military character consisting of three divisions with commanders, captains, etc., the captains to report to division ommanders, and the latter to report to the Advisory Committee,"

He then detailed how the authority of the heriff had been defied, the arrival of the Pinkertons, the riot following and finally the obilization of the State troops, adding: "We can have some sympathy with a mob driven to desperation by hunger, as in the days of the French revolution, but we can have none for men receiving exceptionally high wages in resisting the law and resorting to violence and bloodshed in the assertion of imaginary rights and entailing such a vast expense upon the taxpayers of the county. It was not a cry for bread to feed their famishing lips, resulting in a sudden outrage with good provocation; it is a delibrate attempt by men without authority to control others in the enjoyment of their and pursuade others to join them, but the moment they attempted to control the works and resorted to violence they placed them selves outside the pale of the were to concede the doctrine that the em-ploye may dictate to his employer the terms of his employment and upon the rethe latter accede them to take possession of his property and drive others away who were willing to work we would have anarchy. No business could be conducted upon such a basis; that doc-be conducted upon such a basis; that doctrine when once countenanced would be extended to every industry."

The Justice then defined as treason the organization of a large number of men in a common purpose to defy the law, resist its officers and to deprive any portion of their fellow citizens of their rights under the constitution and laws. It is a state of war, said he, when a business plant has to be surrounded by the army of the State to protect it from unlawful violence at the hand of former employes.

"Every member of such asserted government, whether it be an advisory committee, or by whatever name it is called, who has participated in such usurpation, who has joined in a common purpose, of resistance to the law and a denial of the rights of other citizens, has committed treason against the State. With the definition of this offense is the designing against the government of the State. Such intention need not extend to every portion of its territory. It is sufficient if it be an overturning of it in a particular locality and such intent may be inferred from the acts committed. If you find from the evidence that the defendants have, or any of them has committed, in you find from the evidence that the defendants have, or any of them has committed. If you find from the evidence that the defendants have, or any of them has committed, in you find from the villagainst the party or parties so offending.

"We have reached the point in the history of the State where there are but two roads for us to pursue, the one leads to order and good government, the other leads to anarchy. The one great question which concerns the people of this country is the enforcement of the law and the preservation of order."

LABOR NEWS.

THE STRIKE RESPONSIBLE FOR BUSINESS FAIL URES AT PITTSBURG. PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 10.-The labor trouble of the past six months are held to be largely responsible for the recent business failures among the Hebrews in the Wylle avenue district. Within the past week the Sheriff has attached his bills of sale to six dry goods and notion stores in that six dry goods and notion stores in that section. Several of those failing have branch stores in the small towns in this vicinity, which will also go down in the wreck. The general reason advanced for the failure is that the peddlers and small dealers supplied from the Wylle avenue stores failed to meet their obligations, thereby preventing the merchants from settling with their creditors. The whole system seems to have been one of credit. Little capital was invested by many of the dealers. All depended on their income from sales to meet their payments. The merchants bought on credit from Eastern wholesalers, sold on credit to the peddlers and small stores and they in turn sold largely on credit to credit of their customers. The latter are almost entirely of the mill working class. Homestead has always been considered one of the best fields for the pack peddlers' business in this section. The amount involved by these failures is over $200,000. Among the victims of the panic are S. Tapolsky, J. S. Friedman and D. Rosenthal. The latter's liabilities are said to reach $125,000.

ASKED FOR THE FULL SCALE. Boston, Mass., Oct. 10.-At a meeting held yesterday the members of Typographical Union No. 13 decided that all newspaper offices in Boston should be asked to pay on and after Oct. 17 the union scale of 45 cents per 1,000 ems.

EMPLOYES LOCKED OUT. BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 10. In accordance with a vote taken at the last meeting of the out against their employes beginning from Saturday afternoon. They allege that the action of the unions during the past year had been driving the work out of Boston. The number of people affected by the lock-out is, estimated as being from 300 to 1,500 men and women, only about 200 of whom are members of the Garment Workers' Union.

CRESPO IN POWER

Declared Provisional President of the Venezuelan Republic.

CARACAS, Oct. 10.-Crespo rules Venezuela He is virtually Dictator. Only time how patriotically he will use the dictatorial power which the events of the revolution have placed in his hands. He has been declared Provisional President of the Republic.

clared Provisional President of the Republic. But Venezuela is a Republic in name only. Crespo's will is now the only law.

The reception accorded the successful leader was a triumph. The people cheered wildly as he entered the capital. He is very popular and all classes of people are heartily glad the war is over. As soon as Crespo reached the Congress building he summoned his chief military and political leaders about him. The result of their conference was the proclamation of Crespo as President of the Republic. He stated that he would hold office only until the regularly elected Congress shall have had time to meet again and proceed to the election of a constitutional successor to the exiled ex-President Palacto. The members of his provisional cabinet are as follows:

Minister of the Interior—Legan Colina.

Minister of the Interior—Leon Colina.

Rogas.

Minister of the Interior—Leon Colina.

Minister of Finance—Senor Pietri.

Minister of War—Guzman Alvarez.
Chief of Police—Gen. Victor Rodriquez.
Chief of Police—Gen. Victor Rodriquez.
Chief of Telegraphs—Leopoido Baptista.

Minister of Instruction—Silva Gaudolphy.
General-in-Chief—Ramon Guerra.
Governor of Carcas—Senor Andrade.
These are all well known Venezuelans who have aided the cause of the Legalists by active service in the field or by financial contributions. The provisional cabinet gives general satisfaction. It is believed that as quickly as is possible under the circumstances it will restore order throughout the distracted Republic. Gen. Ramon Guerra is the owner of a large coffee plantation. He led Crespo's flerce Llaneros, or men of the plains, in the late war. Gen. Leon Colina was at the head of the artillery and Gen. Victor Rodriguez also rendered efficient ald in bringing about the triumph of the Crespists.

The rumors concerning the escape of the de facto President Villegas Puildo and cabinet re confirmed. They managed to get on a vessel bound for Martinique. It is said to be their intention to proceed to France and join their former chief, Dr. Palacio, in Paris.

9 Another body of Crespist soldiers entered La Guayra yesterday. Their presence helped very materially in restoring order.

EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.

Fifth Day's Proceedings of the Triennial Meeting.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 10 .- The fifth day's session of the Triennial Episcopal Conven-tion opened in Emmanuel Church this morning with a good attendance. Bishop Walker of North Dakota and Rev. Dr. Robert of Missouri conducted the religious services, after which the House of Deputies and House of Bishops met promptly.

In the House of Deputies Rev. J. W. Cain of Galveston, Tex., the only colored delegate, was seated in place of Rev. J. M. Beckwith of Texas, who is unable to be present.

A number of memorials and resolutions were presented and referred. The request of the House of Bishops that the restoration of the hymns question be referred back and be made the order of the day for next Friday was affirmatively voted upon.

The special order of the day, the proposed changes in the prayer book, was then taken up. Resolution No. 22 was adopted. No. 24 caused some debate and was lost by a vote of: Clergy—Ayes, 7; nays, 48; divided, 1.

The Twenty-fifth Resolution was carried without debate, as were Nos. 25 and 27. No. 28 was almost unanimously affirmative.

MORMON CONFERENCE CLOSED.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Oct. 10.—The sixty-second semi-annual conference of the Mormon Church closed Saturday with 15,000 in at-tendance at the closing session. The reports tendance at the closing session. The reports of the various States—Utah, Wyoming, Colorado, Idaho, Arizona and Mexico showed a total membership of over 200,000. Joseph F. Smith, whose recent return from a seven years' sojourn underground marked the origin of the national party lines, delivered an address. It was decided to dedicate the new temple on April 6, 1893. This building was commenced forty years ago and has cost $2,500,000.

HERESY CHARGES DISMISSED. BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 10 .- Bishop Potter is authority for the statement that Rev. R. Heber Newton will not be tried for heresy. The committee appointed to investigate the charge has completed its report and this is in the hands of Bishop Potter. It is understood that this report is favorable to Dr. Newton, and hence Bishop Potter's authoritative denial.

Clever Opium Smugglers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 10 .- For months the optum dealers of Chinatown have had hard work to supply the demand for the drug and prices have been very high. Within ten days prices have fallen one-third, and days prices have fallen one-third, and oplum is easy to get. These facts led customs officers to investigate, and they found that the smuggling yacht Halcyon, which sailed from Victoria last August, unloaded over $200,000 worth of oplum last month just inside the Golden Gate on the Marine County shore. In bringing the Halcyon oplum into the city a clever plan to avoid discovery was followed. Instead of shipping and carrying it across the bay at night in small boats the opium was packed in butter and egg boxes and brought across on express wagons in the regular ferry steamers. As everybody knows great quantities of butter and eggs are sintped from Marine County every day in this way. Many of the boxes are sent to private addresses all over the city and no record is kept. The Custom-house officers made a raid on the Chinese quarter, but found no indication of contraband opium.

Mrs. Swift, the widowed sister of the murdered man, whose character was clouded by the stories circulated by Coombs, urged on the meeting, and a third party, who had supplanted Coombs in the widow's affections, is also said to have had a large finger in the trouble. The associates of Conway on the Frisco are excited, and were gathered in knots all day Sunday discussing the affair. Some of them talk of lynching Coombs, but Sheriff Day has let it be understood that he is fully prepared to resist such an attempt.

WHY THE DEMOCRATIC VETERAN LEAGUE WILL

Sr. Paul, Minn., Oct. 10 .- The St. Paul Democratic Veterans' League organized last night 152 strong and issued a long address to the old soldiers and sailors of Minnesota and Wisconsin, stating that Mr. Cleveland had never vetoed a general pension bill, but only a lot of private bills which were for most part unworthy in character. The address con-cludes; "We do not ask ex-Union soldiers to support Grover Cleveland for the single reason Cleveland for the single reason that he has always proven himself the true friend of the veterans of the late war, but, added reasons that his candidacy is a declaration of war against monopolies, combinations and trusts, as also against the domination of the plutocracy class that has placed his fetters upon the masses; because it means that taxation shall be just; because it means that the wealth of the people shall be allowed to remain in control of those who earn it; because it means to all toilers more work, more bread, more happy homes, more general prosperity."

REPUBLICANS AND POPULISTS WILL NOT PUSE IN GEORGIA.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 10.-The Repu electoral ticket of Georgia will not be fused with that of the People's party. This was decided at a called meeting of the selected candidates. The question was put to them whether half their number would not give way to the same number of People's party nominees. The refusal was emphatic. Thus there will be four electoral tickets voted in Georgia-Republican, Democratic, People's party and Prohibition.

ress this afternoon in all the wards in the city is the most exciting in the history of the party. The polls were opened at 1 o'clock and the voting will continue until s o'clock this evening. The 'pushites,' as Noonan's followers are called, are working as they never before did to capture a majority of the wards for the purpose of getting control of the committee. The disposition of a very considerable element of the bemogratic party to down Noonan has been manifest. Actuated by the idea, the anti-Noonanities in the Sixteenth Ward, Noonan's own balliwick, put up a strong delegation. Early this afternoon the city employes turned out in large numbers to take charge of the polls in that ward. The opposition was on hand and likewise a big police guard with instructions to permit neither Jim Brennan nor anybody else to violate the provisions of the Ryan law. Senator McGinnis came into the salcon where the delegates were gathering an hour before the convention met and consulted with Brewer John Krauss and Louis Wagner in low-toned conversation at a beer table.

The only candidate for the Lower House present was Joseph L. Patum, the lawyer, lie seemed to be pretty sure in some mysterious way that he would get the nomination, and all the campaigh expense he had thought it worth while to incur was an announcement of his candidacy, which he had printed on little slips of paper in typescript.

Mr. Wagner called the convention to order in a dining-room over the saloon and Dr. Max C. Starkioff was elected chairman. Dr. Starkioff was a delegate to the Republican Convention Saturday, and he showed in this one a disposition to suggest to the delegates what they ought to do. Formalities such as compilities and resolutions were disposed. committees and resolutions were dispensed with, and then Mr. Wagner got up with a broad smile.

"Mr. Chairman," said he, "I'll have to nominate somebody. I have to laugh, but I must nominate somebody, and I nominate our staunch old Republican, J. C. McGinter.

our staunch old Republican, J. C. McGinnls."

The nomination was made unanimously and Chairman Starkloff appointed Wagner and Brewer Krauss to bring the Senator up stairs. Mr. Wagner wanted him to stay down stairs till all the candidates were nominated, but the chairman insisted on his way, and got it.

While the committee was down stairs in the saioon br. Starkioff looked around at the delegates and said:

"Now is the time for you gentlemen to put your heads together for candidates for the Legislature."

Then the Chairman added, with a significant nod, "And I would suggest that you be careful in making your selections,"

And his eye wandered over to the corner where Lawyer J. L. Tatum sat with anxiety on his face, and a "Life of Madison" in his pocket.

Senator McGinnis made a "Speech expressing his satisfaction with the record he had made in the Legislature. "I've never missed a roli call in ten years," said he. Then, before the applause died out. Fred Clements nominated Mr. Tatum, and Louis Wagner nominated John Pachall, a former member of the House. They were elected by acclamation. Brewer Kraus then got up and set the seal of his approval on the nominations. "Both of them are good men," said he, "One is a lawyer, and the other has been in the Legislature before, and I know he is satisfied by this ourst of confidence, which, seemed to disclose the plans of a boss. Gen. Weaver Hopeful.

man of the National Executive Committee, at the Richelleu Hotel. Notwithstanding his long canvass, Gen. Weaver appears to be in better health than he was when he accepted the nomination at the Omaha convention. The Populist idol is adverse to making predictions and discusses politics very guardedly. When asked by a Post-Disparent reporter what he thought of his chances for election, he replied? "I regard them as very good. In fact, I am meeting with more encouragement than I anticipated. The silver States are in the middle of the road and are outspoken for the People's party. We will poll a very large vote in the East, notwithstanding the published reports to the contrary, also in the West and the South." When questioned in regard to his abandoned campaign in the South, he said: "I think the disgraceful manner in which I was treated in the South is already meeting with condemnation by the better class of people, and the result of it will prove disastrous to the Democratic party in Georgia and all of the Southern states. That rotton egg affair I do not care to refer to again, as it was the work of a gang of hoodulums and unprincipled politicians, which was exposed in the Post-Disparch at the time of its occurrence by my letter refusing to make a further canvass of the State of Georgia, giving a detailed account of my reasons. My refusal to continue my canvass in Georgia will not in the least injure the People's party prospects in the South, for the returns of the recent election in the State of Georgia show that a majority of the liberty-loving white people are for us."

Gen. Weaver, after consulting with arr. Taubeneck, decided that the would make no canvass or political speech in the city of St. Louis during the campaign. He leaves tonight over the Missouri Pacific for Sedalia, where he speaks to-morrow. From there he will make a tour of Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Minnesota, South Dakota, Nebraska and Kansas.

Frank Obear, who was mentioned as a man to make the race against O'Neill, said emphatically this morning that he would not run. "I am in the real estate business," he said, "and propose to give it all my time and attention. I have no desire whatever to accept any political office. Kinloch Park. St. Louis' Grand Scenic Suburb.

On the Suburban Electric and Wabash Railroad, Overlooking the Florissant Valley.

Railroad, Overlocking the Florissant Valley.

Not only the most charming and healthfully situated, but also the most accessible—in other words, the most easily reached, When we state that Kinloch Fark, as an advantageously and desirably situated place for residence, stands head and shoulders over any other suburban town site, at convenient distance from St. Louis, the reasons to substantiate the statement are not wanting, but are as plain as the proverblal nose on a man's face.

In the first piace the whole property and its surroundings delight the eye. The contour of the land not only suggests, but insures perfect natural drainage. The liberal scale on which it has been platted renders every portion of it interesting and desirable; for instance, here a broad boulevard with ornamental shrubbery intersects; there, a. fine avenue laid out and graded with mathematical precision attracts attention; within eyeshot on any side is to be seen one or more of the six spacious parks with their evergreens and shade trees, which parks, having been dedicated to the public, will remain things of beauty and joys forever. As for water supply, you have simply to see and sample it to be convinced that Kinloch Park's cool spring water is as pure, as wholesome and as refreshing as ever mother earth supplied. No other suburban town has as good rapid transit train service to and from as many of the business centers of St. Louis, for both steam and electric lines run between Kinloch Park and the city every few minutes, and residents at that point are not only afforded the advantages of a choice of two terminals of the Wabash kailroad in St. Louis, one at the Union Depot, the other at Franklin avenue and Collins street, but can also avail themselves of the excellent service afforded by the St. Louis & Suburban Electric Railway in order to reach any point along the route of that important artery of travel, one which lands its passengers at the intersection of 8ixth and Locust streets, the very heart of the city. Again, Kinloch Park has no less than four stations on the Suburban Electric Line and one on the Wabash Railroad, at which trains stop. These have been constructed at such points as will bring every lot in the different sections of the place within a few minutes' walk of one or the other of them.

Considering the numerous advantages afforded by this favored spot, not forgetting the very important fact of the existence of cheap fares, it will create nothing short of a genuine sensation when we announce that we will actually offer the lots during the three days' special sale nowadvertised at $i7 per lot, $30 per lot, $30 per lot, $35 per lot, $30 per lot and upwards ($20 extra for corners).

Romember, these are prices per lot, not per foot, as the exceedingly low figures might lead some people to suppose; also remember that every lot lies high and dry, and that we have no more use for swamps or mud-holes than you have.

R ules Governing the Great Sale

Lots will be sold by private sale, not by auction. Prices of all lots will be marked in plain figures on the large plan that will be on view on the sale days. Every lot stake too. On the ground will have its ticket and price attached. The prices given mean cash, but by cash we do not mean that all the purchase price need be taken to Kinloch Park on the days you buy. A payment of $5 on each lot purchased must be made at the time the lots are selected—the balance to be paid before 9 o'clock on the evening of the next business day. The balance on all lots purchased Tuesday must be paid by Wednesday evening at the company's permanent office, 805 Locust street, opposite Post-office. All lots purchased Thursday must be settled for Friday, and purchases made Saturday must be closed Monday. Warranty deeds and August Gehner & Co.'s certificate of perfect title furnished free to buyers as soon as full purchase price has been paid. Any partial payment not completed the next day will be fgriested and the property be resold without notice.

This rule is a positive necessity and works no hardship to any one, while holding all parties strictly to promise or contract. Therefore, remember that whatever lots you make a partial payment for on Tuesday must be paid for in full by 9 o'clock onthe evening of Wednesday; Thursday's purchases to be completed on Friday, and Saturday's purchases on Monday. Balances to be paid at 805 Locust st., opposite Postoffice, St. Louis, Mo.

And any desired information not given in this announcement may be obtained by calling at our office. Office open DAY TIME and EVENINGS. Lots may be purchased at the office on Wednesdays and Fridays and on any evening up to 9 o'clock on Saturday, Oct. 15.

Two Citizens of Carondelet Settled Their Difficulties in a Rude Ring Last Night. George Holland and James Shepperd met by accident in a well known resort near Broaway late Saturday night and renewed an old grudge of years standing. Words waxed warm and they agreed to settle their differences in true puglistic style. Accompanied by friends the two men walked to a lone-some spot where they would not be interrupted by the police. They partially stripped and stepping into a rude inclosure hastily made, fought a hard battle. Rules were out of the question. All whether anything was stolen. This morning it was learned that a few handkerchiefs were stolen. In some instances there seems to be no purpose in this malicious destruction of property.

TWO GREAT NIGHTS.

Features of German and Railroad Evenings at the Exposition. To-day opened the last week but one of the Exposition season of 1892. It will be German night this evening and one of the largest gatherings of the season is expected within the doors of the great building. German music will be the order and Gilmore's great band of one hundred will be assisted by band of one hundred will be assisted by the Socialer Sangerchor in the rendition of some of the selections. As many of the grandest compositions in music are by the German masters the concert will be a particularly fine one. A little humor will be sandwiched into the concert by the playing of Herr Stockigt's comic composition, "Dot Leedie German Band," by a quartette composed of a bassoon, trombone, oboe and clarinet.

Perhaps the greatest attendance of the Exposition will be present to-morrow night, which will be realroad night. The railroad men have fairly outdone themselves in preparing for this event, and to aid them the illumination of the streets to-morrow evening. Sergt. Freudenvoll is making a special effort to get up a particularly interesting programme for the evening. A number of railroad men of national fame will be present. Among them are Mr. E. Ingalls, President of the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Columbus & Indianapolis Road; J. G. Williams, Vice-President of the Vandalia; S. N. Calloway, President of the Toledo Line; J. C. Clark, President of the Toledo Line; J. C. Clark, President of the Mobile & Ohio; George W. Parker, President of the St. Louis & Terre Haute; Stuyvesant Fish, President of the Illinois Central, and a great many others. The programme for this evening is as fol-lows:

Supreme Court Justice Shiras Takes the Official Oath. WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 10 .- Many friends of the new Justice of the United States Supreme Court, George Shiras, Jr., of Pittsburg, were present this morning when court assembled for its October term to witness his induction into office. As soon as the court order had formally opened the court, Chief Justice Fuller, addressing himself to the members of the bar present, said: members of the bar that since the adjourn. ment of the court the existing vacancy has been filled by the appointment of Mr. George Shiras, Jr., of Pennsylvania. Mr. Shiras is present and ment of Mr. George Shiras, Jr., of Pennsylvania. Mr. Shiras is present and prepared to take the oath.' By direction of the Chief Justice, Mr. McKenney, Clerk of the court, then read the commission and administered the oath of office. The judicial oath had been written in manuscript, and the new Justice' read therefrom in a low but clear voice. He then kissed the Bible tendered by Mr. McKenney and was escorted to his chair on the end of the bench to the left of Justice Brewer, the members of the court and spectators rising to welcome him. He made an old-fashioned, rather low bow to his new associates and then took his seat on the beach, Justice Brewer greeting him with a shake of the hand. To-morrow motions will be entered and the hearing of argument in the Chicago lake front cases begun. These cases were set for argument Oct. If, but by agreement of counsel argument in them will begin to-morrow in order that Justice Harlan, who will be away part of the term on duty as one of the Behring Sea arbitrators, may take part in their argument and decision. Chief Justice Fuller and Justice Blatchford will not take part in the hearing of the cases because of personal interest in their decision, and this makes it desirable that Justice Blatchard will not take part in the teerst in their decision, and this makes it desirable that Justice Blatan and be present.

GOVERNMENT CROP REPORT.

Statistics Gathered by the Department of Agriculture. WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 10.-The statis ician from the Department of Agriculture reports a reduction of 31/2 points in the general percentage of condition of cotton from 76.8 in September to 78.8 North Carolina and least in Texas of any of the States of considerable production. Georgia has maintained it ondition better than any tion. Georgia has maintained its condition better than any other Atlantic States. The percentages are: Virginia, 71; North Carolina, 65; South Carolina, 72; Georgia, 75; Florida, 63; Aibbama, 69; Mississippi, 72; Louislana, 71; Texas, 77; Arkanasa, 74; Tennessee, 75. Rain in the early part of September and cold nights later have caused the rotting of immature boils in North Carolina and South Carolina. The crop is maturing somewhat better in Georgia, though excess of moisture in the southern counties has been injurious. The low condition of Florida cotton in September has been further depressed by heavy and persistent rainfall which has delayed picking. The low status of the Alabama breadth is the result of wet weather, insufficient cultivation, distroportionate growth of stalks, fruits and rotting of young boils. Somewhat more favorable influence in Mississippi give rise to more cheerful reports. Louisiana cotton is very late and unpromising from excessive moisture through the season to Septure through the Sea

THE Republican party of to-day is the party of the younger Lincoln but not of Father | Abraham. The great Lincoln would hever indorse in times of peace a worse than war tariff which lays a heavy burden of taxes upon the people to enrich the few and which fosters the corruption of the ballot box.

THE boodle campaign just begun in Illinois according to the Indiana programme will hardly avail to rescue the State from the Democrats if it is really Democratic on a fair vote. The evidence points to the conclusion that thinking men are leaving the g. o. p. in droves. The purchasable vote is probably not large enough to overcome the Gresham strength.

THE Northwestern campaign fund is made up of large and small subscriptionsmostly small-from the plain people who have no favors to ask of the Government and whose private interests are coincident with the public good. The Democratic party is convinced that once the people of the West and Northwest understand the purpose and effect of Republican legislation they will not be slow to repudiate a party whose only excuse for existence is to build up the few at the expense of the many. Every dollar contributed to this fund will be used to enlighten the voter of the farming States.

THE proposal made by the Speaker, Mr Gladstone's organ, to abolish the office of Poet Laureate on the ground that it is not agreeable to the common sense of the people nor in harmony with the spirit of the times, is not likely to be adopted during Queen Victoria's lifetime. She is noted as a stickler for old forms and her af fection for the institutions she found existing at the time of her accession has always been one of the crosses Liberal Ministers have had to bear. When her son comes to the throne there will be a bette chance. As long as he is sure of having plenty of "fun" he is not likely to worry over the abolition of old institutions.

In spite of Sccretary Noble's rebuke, the pension ruling of Assistant Secretary Bus sey is strictly in line with the Adminis tration, both in matter and manner of presentation. It is a stump speech in the form of a public document, and contains some sharp criticisms of President Cleveland's administration. Mr. Noble treats these as unprecedented, but only a few weeks ago the Land Commissioner played the same trick, and if he was rebuked no If the McKinley law benefits the State of one has heard of it. The fact is, Bussey's ruling was not intended for any but the soldiers whose votes it would influence. He has been found out, which is the only offense known to this Administration.

SENATOR INGALIS admits that the elections of 1890 recorded a protest of the peo ple against existing conditions and reiter ates what he said in his penitential speech just before he was kicked out of the Senate. If this is clear to him why does he maintain relations with a party irreconcilably opposed to "a more equitable distribution of profits of the country's industry?" He seems to be working against his own convictions. The truth is, however, he hasn't any convictions. #### CARNEGIE'S LIBRARY.

When the corner-stone of the Carnegie memorial library was laid in Ayr, Scotland, Mr. Carnegie was, of course, present to receive the adulation of the servile worshippers of wealth and to remind the assembled multitude of his many virtues seems to be almost wholly provisional in and good intentions. In the course of his speech occurred this remarkable passage: I feel more strongly bound than ever to devote the remaining years of my life less to aims ending in self and more to the service time in the manner most likely to produce the greatest good to the masses of the peo-From these masses comes the wealth which is trusted to the owner only as admin-

> This is remarkable because it is a bold cumulate money. Mr. Carnegie frankly It came from the masses, and was intrusted to him "only as administrator." According to his gospel he is a trustee,

> All this might be satisfactory were it no for some well-known facts concerning the methods adopted by Mr. Carnegie in getting hold of the wealth produced by other men. He milked the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. by processes which have since become familiar to railroad wreckers and their victims. His first few millions were "accumulated" in the railroad "business." Afterward he lobbied through Congress certain legislation which enabled him to get the earnings of every user of iron in the country. The question now arises, who made him a trustee? Mr. Carnegie himself, would say that God in his infinite wisdom saw that he was better able to administer the earners' wealth than the earners themselves and, therefore, blessed him with CHAIRMAN CARTER refuses to allow his great success in business. This view is mighty a partner in a burgling enter-

Mr. Carnegie is guilty of blasphemy in this speech and his gospel of wealth is founded upon the degradation and dishonor of the Christians' God. To day that cleverness in accumulating wealth "produced by the masses'' is a heaven-bless faculty is to repudiate the Gospel of Him who drove the money changers from the

A DEMOCRATIC OPPORTUNITY.

The local Democracy never had a better pportunity to build up the party and strengthen the campaign all along the line by rallying the best citizens to its standard than will be presented at to-morrow's convention for the nomination of a city ticket.

The triumph of the corrupt Hoodlum machine in the Republican City Convention and the nomination of several representatives of the worst element in the party cannot fail to discourage respectable Republicans. The Filley gang controlled the party's action and the disreputable combine got a full share of the most important nominations. The ticket as whole disappoints the better element of Republicans and repels independent sup-

The key to the local political situation will rest, therefore, in the hands of the Democratic City Convention. If, laying aside petty factional differences, the delegates name a clean, strong ticket many of the failures of the city organization will be atoned for Such action will not only assure success in the local election, but will afford great aid to the party in the State and national elections.

The hope of the city Democracy for victory and of all good citizens for relief from unfit officials depends upon the Democratic Convention to-morrow.

His Views Will Shock Assistant Circuit Attorney Zachritz.

THE CERCUIT ATTORNEY THE SERVANT OF THE GRAND-JURY.

Long Charge Delivered to the October Grand-Jury This Afternoon Aims to Correct Abuses Which Have Grown Up at the Four Courts-Members Urged Do Their Duty Fearlessly, But No Reference Made to School Board Affairs or the Remit Business at the City Hall.

The October term of the Criminal Court vas opened at 10 o'clock this morning, and the first thing done was the calling of the list of citizens summoned for Grand-jury service, as follows: Bartlett S. Adams, Henry Belz, August H. Blanke, Bryan Brady, Charles P. Damon, Martin Donahoe, John H. Douglass, Louis Edwards, Charles H. Evans, Samuel Evans, Henry J Filsinger, Sylvester J. Fisher, Pierce P. Fur er, Frank Galennie, Arthur H. Gale, Norris 3. Gregg, Wm. H. Hopson, John M. Jordan Henry M. Noel, Wm. P. Koken, Geo. W. Par ker, Adam Kulage, Wayman C. Mc-Creery, Norton McNeil, Thos. B. Morse, Francis Nohl, John B. O'Meara, James A. Quirk, Norton E. Reynolds, Charles Valker, Austin Walsh, William R. Walther, liam A. Orr. Gorham O. Hall and Guido

Messrs. Belz, D'Oench, Donahoe, Evans, Galennie, Kulage, McCreery, Morse, Nohl O'Meara, Orr. Reynolds, Udell, Walker and Young were excused from service. Messrs. Douglass, Speck and Yutt were not present

turnable at 2 o'clock.
At 2 o'clock this afternoon the panel was again called and the jury completed. Judge Castleman charged the jury as follows: castleman charged the jury completed. Judge Castleman charged the jury as follows:

GENTLEMEN OF THE GRAND-JURY—The Importance attached to your functions ought to be sufficiently attested by the manner in which the State require that you be selected for service. Out of the half million of souls comprising this great city, you are the part of "The Six Hundred" which the commonwealth makes it the duty of the five Judges composing our Circuit Court to select for this special duty. In making this selection it is the effort of those judges to get men who are apart from their fellows, on account of their reputations for ability, fidelity and responsibility or in the language of the oath which has just been administered to you, men who are courageous enough "to prison no one for any hatred, malice or Hi-will," impartial and disinterested enough not to leave "unprosecuted any one for love, fear, favor or affection or for any reward or the hope or promise thereof and so discreet and wise that the counsel of your State, your fellows and your own you shall truly keep secret."

The institution of the Grand-jury is coody, It is sometimes erroneously supposed that

It is sometimes erroneously supposed that your full duty is discharged when you 'oring the guilty to judgment.' but you were born in the bed with liberty and your highest function is to preserve the liberty of the citizen, rather than to put him on the road to the gallows or the penitentiary. The extent of your powers is a matter about which there has waged an intellectual war for the time of your existence circumscribed to those matters which shall be submitted to you by this court in this, its charge, together with such as shall be brought to your attention by the Circuit Attorney, and such as may be within the personal knowledge of any one of the Grand-

But, while this court is of opinion that you But, while this court is of opinion that you are subject to its instructions, as you are part of the court itself, and, must be subordinate to it, yet it is further of the opinion that you are as independent of it as the law could make a member of the body to which it belongs, and that the Circuit Attorney is your servant and not your master. A judge, who was master of the law which governs your body, said of you that "that respectable body are entirely independent of us, they may form their own view." You are not dependent upon the order of his court for your process, as the law pro-

"Whenever thereto required by any Grand Jury or the foreman thereof, or by the Prosecuting Attorney, the clerk of the coart in which such jury is impaneled shall issue subpens and other process to bring witnesses to testify before such Grand-Jury," and yet ifor the enforcement of your process and for the coercion of stubborn witnesses, the law directs you to this court. But the laws of this State have made you absolutely independent of every authority except this court.

It has been well said: "And it is equally true that in making such a presentment the Grand-Jury are entirely irresponsible, either to the public or to individuals aggreeved—the law giving them the most absolute and unquelified indemnity for the said of the contraction." naw giving them the most absolute and unqualified indemnity for such an official act." But with regard to this "absolute and unqualified indemnity" you will observe, gentlemen of the jury, that it is not "for such an official act."

There are rules of decorum which are as binding upon you as upon all other members of society, and it is well for you to bear in mind that while you are made by the laws of the land a "sacred institution" whose precincts none but the law tiself can invade, yet it is "sacred" only with regard to your "official acts." You can, as Grand-jurles before you have done, overstep the limit and make one of yourselves amenable to the law which you are here to enforce. But, as long as you "stick to your own business" your triumph is the "holy of holles" to the law.

Your first duty will be to look after persons committed under the order of the examining courts to fall and held under commitment. And here, gentlemen, it is agreed by all the parties of the controversy as to the extent of your powers and duties, that "the Grand-Jury has an absolute veto power," that is to say, it is for you to say, upon the "legal evidence" adduced before you, whether the prisoner is properly held for the offense charged. In all such cases there has been an examination by some primary court, and you will find that notes of the evidence taken helps. There are rules of decorum which are as held for the offense charged. In all such cases there has been an examination by some primary court, and you will find that notes of the evidence taken before the judge or justice, before whom such examination was taken, have been preserved in writing and are on file in each case. It would be natural for you to conclude that the prisoner may be indicted by you, if, upon review, your body should find that that preserved evidence is sufficient to find an indictment upon. The evidence or "notes of evidence" so preserved is not intended for any such purpose nor any part of the "legal evidence" upon which you are authorized to find an indictment. In its jealous care of the personal liberty of the citizen, these "notes of evidence" are preserved by the State as a reference from which you can ascertain whether or not the witnesses appearing before you tell the same story that they disclosed to the examining tribunal. If you find that they vary the evidence given before you from that given in the preliminary examination, it will be for you to say whether or not the evidence is sufficiently trustworthy to be worthy of your credence, it has been well said that "Grand juries are high public functionaries standing between accuser and accused." They are great security to the citizens against vindictive prospections either by government or politica partisans, or by private enemies. "In their independent action the persecuted have found their most fearless protectors, and in the records of their doings are to be discovered the noblest stands against the oppression of power, the virulence of mailiee and the intemperance of prejudice."

I met a sad-eyed quartette and they took me by the hand Saying, "D'ye think we'd steal twelve dollars?"-then looking very bland. They're the most distressful people, that ever you have seen, For they can't give very good accounts of "remits" and "long green." They've told their fishing stories-explaining this and that But the people think these little men are singing through their hat. Oh they're singing through their hat; Oh they're singing through their hat; For we're jailing men and women to-day for doing things like that.

s those in which we live our own Supreme Court has said A Grand-jury should be considered trust-orthy. * * They stand as a rammar orought to trial on the law unless the Grandoffense known to the law unless the Grandjury shall say so."

"Rampart" is what the law deems you, gentlemen fof the Grand-jury, and not prosecutors. While, therefore, it is your clear duty to indict for 'all offenses against the laws of the State, committed or triable," in this city, "of which you have or can obtain legal evidence," yet it is equally your clear duty not to indict in cases where you have not and cannot obtain clear "legal evidance."

In considering the cases of those committed In considering the cases of those committed to prison you will, therefore, not be influenced by the fact that the prisoner has been held by an examining court or magistrate, and you will not give any force to the "preserved notes of evidence" except for the purposes hereinbefore indicated. It is no part of your duty to examine that evidence at all—but you are at liberty to do so if you please, but only for the purpose of testing the consistency of the evidence of witnesses sworn before you.

Your next duty will be to take up those cases where there has been a prelimthe consistency of the evidence of witnesses sworn before you.

Your next duty will be to take up those cases where there has been a preliminary examination and the defendant held to appear before you, but released on bond by this court. In making these examinations you will be governed by the suggestions made to you herectofore concerning persons held in jail.

Having disposed of these cases, you will take up any matters which shall be brought to your attention by the Circuit Attorney or his assistant or his clerk, when authorized or requested by the Circuit Attorney.

It will next be your duty to take up any offense against the laws of the State of which we have or can obtain legal evidence!

dence!"
Sec. 4094 of Revised Statutes of Missouri for 1889 provides: "If a Grand-Juror knows of the commission of any offense, or any material fact touching the same, he must declare such fact to his fellows, and be sworn as a witness upon the investigation before them."!

rial fact touching the same, he must deciare such fact to his fellows, and be sworn as a witness upon the investigation before them."

Finally, you are at liberty to make any further "inquiry" you may see fit.

Your cath makes it your duty to "diligently inquire," etc., etc., and I cannot do better than include in this charge the words of our Supreme Court:

"The Grand-Jury for said county [St. touls County] caused a subpœna to be issued for one Ward, to appear before them and testify generally, without saying in what particular matter or cause he was to testify. He effers the Grand-Jury to testify. The first question asked by the foreman of the Grand-Jury was this: "Do you know of, any person or persons having bet at a faro table in this county within the last twelve months?" to which the witness answered "I do." The foreman then desired the witness to tell what person or persons had so bet, other than himself and not naming himself. It witness declined answering, saying that he could not answer withthat he could not answer without implicating himself. Ward was then directed by the Court to answer the requirements of the Grand-jury, but not to name himself as a a better, which he refused, alidging that to answer this he would implicate himself. Whereupon the Court committed him to prison till he should consent to mitted him to prison till he should consent to give the evidence required and till the further orders of the Court. A writ of error is sued out, a supersedeas asked for. On this state of facts, several questions are made. The first in order is that the Grand-jury have no right to interrogate a witness in this general way; not that an indictment should have been drawn up charging some particular persons.

questions are made. The first in order is that the Grand-jury have no right to interrogate a witness in this general way; not that an indictment should have been drawn up charging some particular persons wite crimes, and that the witness should then be required to give his testimony as to the matter of the indictment. Otherwise the Grand-jury may send for every person in the county and inquire generally of each if he knows of any offenses against the laws; and this would be oppression to witnesses and dangerous to citizens.

The next answer to this is, that no such case appears by the record. I take this case to be an ordinary case, when perhaps the jury had probable cause to believe that some offenses had been committed against law; and that so believing they desired in discharge of their oaths, and of their duties to their country, to inquire. And how should they inquire? Not by going into the secret recesses of gamblers and gambling devices to ask and seek information, but to send for persons who might, in their opinion, be most likely to possess evidence relating to these matters. It is a solemn and important duty that every citizen owes to his country to give evidence in courts of justice against offenders against the peace and good order of the community. A Grand-jury should be considered trustworthy in this matter. They stand as a rampart between a malicious or incensed prosecution in case of life and death; no man can be brought to trial on the lowest or the highest offenses known to the law unless the Grand-jury; shall say so; yet they are not to be trusted with the power to send for witnesses till some mailignant prosecutor or some injured person shall cause an indictment to be sent up to them. This would strip them of their greatest utility, would convert them into a mere engine to be acted upon by the Circuit Attorneys or those who might choose to use them. This point is untenable. You will observe from the foregoing, gentlemen of the Grand-juries is committed the preservation of the peace of the co

You cannot read the minds of our Supreme Court, set out alone without observing that this court has powers over your body and, in case of any abuse by it or an over zeal, can put a stop to it by controlling the process when issued by its officer, the Clerk. You are specially cautioned against lending audience to the "private prosecutor," he who seeks in the first instance your body to secure the institution of prosecution in which he has a personal concern. If any such have a substantial cause of complaint against any person his proper course is to incur the responsibility of invoking the process of an examining court. Do not permit such to use your body for the purpose of shield-having that as his motive for intruding upon your privacy to secure a prosecution, which he has not the manilness to become responsible for by a preliminary prosecution.

And yet the Court would not be understood as forbidding you to give audience to any such. There are worthy and patriotic citizens who are without the courage to institute proceedings for the punishment of substantial infractions of the law. But the court does admonish you earnestly to receive any such with extreme suspicion and distrust, if not with absolute disfavor, and that you hear them, if at all, only after hearing the most substantial reasons on their part for not having instituted a preliminary examination.

It is made my duty by law to charge you that "members of the Grand-jury may be required by any court to testify whether the testimony of a witness examined before such jury is consistent with or different from the evidence given by such witness before the court:" and that "they may also be required to disclose the testimony given before them by any person, upon a complaint against such person for perjury, or upon his trial for such offense;" and that "no member of a Grand-jury shall be obliged or allowed to testify or declare in what manner he or any other member of the Grand-jury voted on any question before them, or what opinions were expressed by any juror in relation to any such question," and that "no grand juror shall disclose any evidence given before the Grand-jury, nor the name of any witness who appeared before them, except when lawfully required to testify as a witness in relation thereto; nor shall he disclose the fact of any indictment having been found against any person for a felony, not in actual confinement, until the defendant shall have been arrested thereon. Any juror violating the provisions of this sections, and it is a duty which I will be obliged to post-pone for the present.

The Grand-jury will appent one of their number to be a clerk thereof, to preserve minutes of their proceedings and of the evidence gi

A Froceeding Against the Scullin Line's Power-House-Court News.

All branches of the Circuit Court opened Last night the Grand Opera-house was regularly for business to-day, and began the trial of the October term cases. In Judge Fisher's court to-day there is on trial the suit of Jacob Christopher, William S. Simp-Given Campbell and Carl Daenzer againt the Union Depot Railroad Co.
and the Mound City Railroad
Co., to have the companies restrained from allowing to escape, from the smokestack of their power house at Missouri and Geyer avenues, smoke, gases, etc., so as to occasion damage, annoyance or discomfort to plaintiffs or their families, who live near the power house. It is alleged that smoke, cinders, dust, ashes, soot and gases emanating from the power plant are carried over the premises of the plaintiffs, and that the products of the combustion are deposited in plaintiff's premises and upon their porches, lawns, trees, shrubbery, flowers and drying clothes. Often, it is further alleged, when plaintiff's windows or doors are open the smoke enters their dwellings, filling their rooms with disagreeable odors, and deposits dust, ashes, cinders and soot on the carpets, curtains, bedding, etc. It is alleged that during the winter when the doors and windows of plaintiffs' dwellings are closed the smoke, gases, ashes and soot from said chimney, from time to time, drop into the inclosures of plaintiffs, and are drawn into the cold air pipes leading to their furnaces, and are thus distributed through their dwellings.

Fuit to Contest & Will. Judge Edwards of St. Charles occupied the in Judge Withrow's court and took up the case of Laura J. Brown

Westley Hughes, Alice Hughes Rinkle and A doiph Rinkle, her husband, and Roland Hughes, to set aside the will of William R. Hughes, who died in April, 1891. William R. Hughes was the iather of Laura Brown. In his will heleft his estate absolutely to his wife, Maria A. Hughes, excepting 38 each to his children who are, excepting the plaintiff, made defendants in the suit. It is alleged that deception was used in obtaining Hughes' signature to the will. J. P. Kerr is attorney for the plaintiff, and Frederick Bacon is defending the suit.

The Case Fettled.

The dispute between Kate C. Blood and Samuel Siegrist over the sale to Siegrist of a lot on Morgan Ford road was settled to-day, and Siegrist's suit against Miss Blood was dismissed by consent. Siegrist, who is a carpenter, entered in possession carpenter, entered in possession of the property under a contract of purchase, and after he had built a house on the lot there was a disagreement over the terms of the contract and a deed was refused him. He began a suit for specific performance several months ago and Miss Blood conceded his claims and dismissed the matter. The property was owned by William B. Karr. McDonald and Howe recently came into the case for Miss Blood and Karr.

Her's amusing farce-comedy "Hoss and Hoss." This play was excellent when it was seen here last season, but is even better now.

New features have been added, hew songs introduced, and the performance is now one his investigation he said: introduced, and the performance is now one Lawyer Charlie Hoss, and Willie Collier as Judge Willie Hoss kept the audience in one continuous roar of laughter. They do not rely upon horse play, but give a performance closely bordering on the legitimate. Their songs were uproariously received. As Bridle Hoss, the Judge's son, Arthur E. Moulton was a decided success, and Hank Thanks, the Sneriff who did not want to be bothered, in the hands of James B. Gentry, was one of the most amusing characters in the play. The part of Sue Brette was well acted and sung by Miss Adele Farrington, who is well known in St. Louis, having resided here for several years. Miss Louisa Allen made a charming and piquants Sibyl Orves while Miss Helena Collier as Annie Rooney caused the audience to roar with laughter. The quartette composed of Miss Marie Celeste, Miss Adele Farrington, David Andrara and John W. Myers is especially worthy of mention. Those who are fond of a hearty laugh will find the required provocation in "Hoss and Hoss," which is one of the best plays of its class ever seen here.

One of the largest audiences that ever as. edies on the stage. Charlie Reed as Lawyer Charlie Hoss, and Willie Collier one of the largest audiences that ever assembled at Pope's Theater was attracted last night by Lew Dockstader's Minstreis. This show has undergone a number of changes and is notably improved. Dockstader himself is funnier than ever, and "The Social Session of the Knickerbocker Club" kept the audience in a roar. In the silhouettes of prominent Americans Dockstader and Wood did a very attractive piece of work. The company contains such well-known performers as J. C. Harrington, George Powers, Frank Dumont and John Burns. It will nold the boards during the week with the usual matinees.

At the Olympic Denman Thompson's "Old Homestead" opened its second week's engagement. As Joshua Whitcomb, Archie Boyd shows steady improvement and bids fair to equal Denman Thomson. The play is one of those of which the theater, going public never seems to tire, and it deserves its popularity.

At Havlin's "'A Royal Pass" delighted a large audience. This play is a scenic drama, in which some excellent realistic effects are introduced. George Staley is admirable as a singer of German dialect songs, and is besides a fine actor. The plot is strongly drawn, and the locomotive run to the German frontier is excellently done.

The attraction at the Standard was "Our Irish Visitors." Sam Ryan plays the part Thomas E. Murray used to play, while Frank Davis plays Mart Murphy's old character. The hit of the performance was made by Lottle Gilson in her specialty in the last act. Johnnie McKever, the 6-year old violinist, likewise made a great hit. The performance throughout moved with spirit.

To-night Thomas W. Keene will appear at the Hagan in "Richard III." Mr. Keene has made great preparations for this play, and the costuming is said to be extremely elaborate, while especial attention has been paid to historic accuracy. The supporting company is very strong and unusually numerous, and the scenic effects are said to be something remarkable.

The defendants were convicted for issuing "checks" in payment of wages of labor in violation of secs. 7058 and 7060, Revised Statutes, 1889. Judge Gantt expressed no opinion. Judge McFarlane concurred in the result, but as the case is a very important one and federal questions are involved, upon motion of Judge Thomas the case was transferred to court in banc. ferred to court in banc.

Wants the License Stopped. Mary Ligon of 1221 South Seventh street, called at Recorder Hobbs' office to-day, to prevent the issuing of a marriage license to her sister, Laura Ligon of Ironton, Mo., who, she stated, is but 17 years old. Miss Ligon said she had received word that her sister had eloped Saturday with Shephard Rose. aged 16.

We do not know why Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil is so useful in those simple but varied conditions which you know as "having a cough." We cannot explain it: we only know the fact from experience.

It may be due to the combination of tonic effects of cod-liver oil and the hypophosphites; it may be partly due to the glycerine. There are many effects in medical practice the causes of which appear to be plain, but how those causes produce those effects we do not know at all. Scorr & Bowne, Chemists, 132 South 5th Avenue, New York. Your druggist keeps Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver eil—all druggists everywhere do. $1.

M'GREW'S FISHING JAUNT.

The Valiant Sergeant's Trip Arouses Enthusiasm Among Local Anglers.

The remarkable "big Thursday" fishing trip of Sergt. McGrew of the Mayor's office seems to have stirred local fisherman up to a pitch of considerable excitement. This cannot be attributed to the Sergeant's no fish. He says that the water was too low ments, at half the usual rent charged to catch fish. But he "accidentally" strolled from the Work-house to the "Wild Hunter's" and Chestnut sts., newly remodeled.
They are the finest in the city.

Saloon and "caught" a good story from old man Padbery, father of Page Padberg of the Mayor's office and Mayor's office and Mayor's office and time which the futile attempt to go a shing must have cost Sergt. McGrew.

But the Padberg episode of the Sergeant's piscatorial jaunt can surely have no attractions for other fishermen. Its value to Sergt. McGrew was based altogether on official grounds, not fishing grounds. There is only one way to account for the excitement caused among the izaak Waltons of St. Louis by the Sergeant's strange adventures with rod and line on "big Thursday." In trying to go a sisting at the Work-house, Sergt. McGrew seems to have discovered an ew fishing resort.

WANTS A MAP. saloon and "caught" a good story from old

One interested angler writes to the Post-Disparch to-day as follows:

Oct. 8, 1892. To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch: Please inform me if there is a map of St. Louis extant giving the fishing grounds near the Work-house, and oblige

Another ardent fisherman sets on foot an investigation to discover if the Sergeant's fishings grounds are open to private citizens. He writes:

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

As the city officers find the vicinity of the Workhouse good "fishing grounds," won't you please ascertain if it is aliquable for clitzens in private lite to go fishing there too? I'm quite a sportsman myself and would not or Crere CourLake. It is so going over to lite or Crere CourLake. It is so much easier to fish at the Work-house, if allowable. A third fisherman also wants to know if the Work-house fishing grounds are open to the public. He asks: To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Are the fishing grounds near the Workhouse private property, or can anybody fish there?

YOURS TO COMMAND.

A FISHING PARTI PROPOSED.

Then the fourth rod and-line enthusiast makes a liberal offer to induce Sergt. McGrew to lead a big fishing party to the Work-house fishing ponds. He writes as follows:

fishing ponds. He writes as lonows:

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
Can't you get that Sergt. McGrew to fix up a fishing party, and we'll all go down to the Work-house and have a good time with the fellows down there. I'm willing to chip in $5; yes, I'll go $10. if the Mayor'll go 'long. Let me know hext Monday.

The Post-Disparch is compelled to refer all these inquiries to Sergt. McGrew himself. As the discoverer of the Work-house fishing-grounds, the Sergeant is entitled to all the giory and prominence arising from the discovery. His address is "Care of the Mayor's office. City Hall." All communications on the subject of his discovery sent to the Post-Disparch will be promptly brought to the attention of Sergt. McGrew.

Patriotic Irishmen Pay Respect to His

Il Unite in Honoring the Dand Leader-Horse and Rider Injured in the Great

DUBLIN, Oct. 10.—A correspondent sends a spatch to his paper, in which he described the extraordinary demonstration which took place in this city to-day in honor of the memory of Parnell. He says:

ing badge of emblem, generally of ivy. Many Irish members of the House of Commons and other admirers of Parnell marched the whole distance to his tomb. John Howard Parnell relatives of Mrs. Parnell attended as m Drogheda and Clonmel corporations were fully represented. The Rev. Richard M. Gregory of New York was among the large number of persons who visited the grave. The procession occupied an hour in passing a given point. No decorations were to be seen in the city, but the attitude of the populace was sympathetic and respectful. Perfect order was maintained throughout the day. The appearance of the Fenian Stephens at the grave evoked bursts of applause. Mrs. Parnell, who was absent, se

PLUCK AND ENDURANCE WIN APPLAUSE FOR

BERLIN, Oct. 10. - Baron Koller, one of the ast arrivals in the long-distance race from Vienna to this city, was thrown into a ditch luring his journey by colliding with a cart while riding at full speed in the darkness. The accident happened at a point 140 miles from Vienna. The horse fell on top of its rider and the Baron lay helpless and suffering under the animal for a quarter of an hour, when some persons happened along and rescued him from his-painful position. He found that the horse had been badly hurt and that it was in such a condition that it was impossible for him to mount the animal. In order to reach Berlin within the stipulated order to reach Berlin within the stipulated time the Baron continued his journey on foot. He walked for three days, leading his disabled horse, and succeeded in covering forty-five miles daily. At the end of three days the animal had so far recovered from the effects of the injuries that the Baron was able to remount and he finished the last seventy miles in the saddle. The wonderful endurance and perseverance exhibited by the Baron is highly praised on all sides, and since his arrival in the city he has been the recipient of many kindly attentions.

GENERAL FOREGN NEWS.

CANADA'S POWER TO MAKE COMMERCIAL TREATIES TO SE DEFINED. OTTAWA, Ontario, Oct. 10 .- As the recent change of government in England is likely Great Britain and her colonies on this side of the Atlantic.so far as Canada's commercial interests lie, relative to the right of negotiating trade treaties with foreign countries, Premier bbott and Minister of Finance Foster sailed Saturday from Quebec to confer with Mr. Gladstone with a view to learning the posion Canada now holds in this matter. From what can be gathered in official quarters here, the concessions to Canada of the right to negotiate her own commercial treaties, which the gover Ottawa intends to secure from Ottawa intends to secure from Lord Salisbury, is not likely to be in accord with Gladstone's policy. The Canadian Government has discovered that the delegations they sent to Australia, the West Indies and South America are to be barren of results, unless they are permitted to negotiate commercial arrangements with those countries independent of any restriction dictated by the British Government. These are the countries that were to furnish the market to supplant that which is being rapidly closed against Canada in the United States by increased custom barriers.

NEWFOUNDLAND WANTS IN.
TORONTO, Oct. 10.—While not forming part of the programme for the approaching conference at Hailfax which has been called, it is now definitely known that an informal disis now definitely known that an informal discussion will be entered into between the Newfoundiand and Canadian delegates as to the most feasible grounds on which the colonies of Newfoundland can enter the dominionr It has been semi-officially intimated from Newfoundiand that in addition to the trade question a revival of the confederate scheme would be deplorable. So far as members of the cabinet here are concerned, practically the only obstacle in the way of the admission of the colony into the union is the French shore difficulty. This objection can be removed only by Great Britain securing, by purchase or otherwise, the rights conceded to France in Newfoundland, and it is stated that Mr. Gladstone favors the union with Canada and the withdrawal of France's Interests in the colony, which alone can accomnitshit.

terests in the colony, which alone can a plish it.

BRITISH CROPS.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—In commenting upon a special account of the condition of the British crops published in its columns, the Times says: "The conclusion on the whole case is that the present year will be a disastrous one for the British farmer. The chief loss will be in British wheat, while there will be no adequate set-off in any other crop. The outlook for the winter is gloomy for all classes, and it becomes a grave question how many farmers will be able to struggle through it."
Considering the continued shrinkage of wheat cuitivation the Times advises farmers to turn their attention to high-class dairy products.

MADRID, Oct. 10.—Tangler advices mention further Moorish outrages on Austrian and Spanish subjects. It is said that the Austrian government has claimed damages for the outrages and the punishment of the offenders and that a Spaniard who kept prisoners for ransom was liberated on a vigorous protest from the military governor of Alhucemas.

BONES OF COLUMBUS. They Are Offered as Colletoral for a Large

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 10 .- A somewha startling story is told by one of the World's Fair Commissioners, who, during a recen visit to the State Department learned that the remains of Christopher Columbus were offered to the United States as security for a loan of $100,000 at 6 per cent interest. The offer had recently been made with due formality by President Huereaux of San Domingo. President Heureaux's thrift has been exemplified in several negotiations with the authorities at Washington, but it was not until the proposition was made to was not until the proposition was made to hypothecate these sacred relies of the great havigator for a cash consideration that the rull extent of his thrift was appreciated.

Although the proposition of President Heureaux was that the remains should be taken in security for the loan it is the general belief of the officials here that this was merely a delicate way of proposing an absolute sale. This view was strengthened by the fact that no time was mentioned for the payment of the loan. It was simply that the $100,000 should be placed in the hands of Presdent Heureaux; that he in turn should have the relics taken from their resting place, boxed and shipped and that the interest on $100,000 thereafter be regularly paid by him. The proposition was rejected, as the department authorities in Washington have no right to make purchases of relics, no matter how valuable they may be.

SPORTING SPREAD.

The New York Jockey Club's fall meeting will be brought to a close next Saturday. The programme for this, the final week, is in keeping with the high standard established by the management of this magnificent course. To-morrow the Williams Bridge Handicap for 3-year-olds at one mile and Handicap for 3-year-olds at one mile and three-sixteenths will be run. It has among its entries Nomad, Azra, Mars, Locohatchee, The Pepper, Pactclus, Fidello, Pickpocket and Charade. Wednesday the Dinmow Stakes, for 2-year-olds, at six furlongs, will be run, with Don Alonzo, Runyon, Sir Francis, Chiswick, Miss Maude, Rainbow and Annie F. coltengaged. On the same day the Manhattan Handicap, for all ages, at one mile and a quarter, with nearly all the cracks of the year among the nominations, should be one of the best races of the meeting. The Essex Stakes for 2-year-olds at six furlongs, with the best in training engaged, and the Hunter Stakes for 2-year-olds and the Hunter Stakes for 2-year-olds and on Thursday. The Country Club Hanicap, for all ages, at one mile and a furlong, will be run on Friday. Saturday the meeting will close with two of the richest handicaps of the year on the card—the White Plains for 2-year-olds and the Pelham Bay for 3-year-olds. The racing public has a long time looked forward to the running of the Pelham Bay Handicap, as it is the only race in which there is a possibility of Tammany and Lampilghter meeting. Trainer Byrnes announces that Tammany will race no more this year, and the probabilities are that these colts will not measure strides until the Brooklyn, Metropolitan or Suburban Handicap next year.

the greatest fight that has ever been pulled off by the club. Choynski has met Jim Corbett several times and has also faced Goddard. In his encounters with these men ne has always put up a good fight. Godfrey, on the other hand, is known all over the country as a game and clever puglist. Both men are now strictly training. A big crowd is expected and every preparation is being made for their accommodation. The arena will be thoroughly heated and the comfort of the public fully looked to. Choynski is reported to have said recently that he would challenge Joe Goddard of Australia for a match should he be victorious in this battle. Goddard has already defeated the Californian a couple of times. This week will wind up the base ball season of '92. Never before in the history of the interest, and between that and cold weather the attendance is likely to be very slim. The apathy that has fallen on the management of the St. Louis Club can be judged by the fact that, though there is a game scheduled here for to-day between the Browns and Louis-villes nobody around Sportsman's Park knew anything of it this morning. The games of the week are as follows:

BASE BALL GOSSIP The magnates are certainly falling on the clayers now like a ton of bricks.

Old Joe Hornung has made application for a league umpire's berth next year. The Boston players cannot see the common sense of having a play off for the champion-ship, as voted by the magnates at the New York meeting. York meeting.

To show how poor have been the receipts from games Chicago gave Pittsburg but $47 in one of the recent games and Washington got $31 from one of the games in Boston. A. G. Spalding is quoted as saying: "Base ball is not so dead as many people seem to think. Interest in the game is all right, but the trouble is expenses are so high that the club-owners hardly know which way to turn. I think it would be very unwise to do anything but continue the twelve-club league. The season was too long, but aside from shortening it I do not think any other changes necessary."

Willie Windle's wonderful performance at Springfield last Saturday is apt to lead many into the belief that Johnson's 1:56 3-5 mile is not so much of an impossibility after all Close investigation will show some points that make Windle's record an easier crumb to swallow than that produced by the prodigy of the notorious Tom Eck. This greased lightning artist paced by horses to a flying start made his mile as follows: First quarter, 0:28/2; half, 58%; three-quarters, 1:28/2; mile. 1:56 3-5. It may seem curlous just how the time that had split on halves and quarters wound up in fifths. That horse pacing is another inexplicable riddle to wheelmen. The average flyer covers a mile in 1:45, which is not excessively fast time. Where was the horse and where was the wheelman? How was it done? Even an explanation from Mr. Eck would relieve the strain, though it proved nothing. The accounts in this paper yesterday of how Windle did his work leaves no room for carping.

WHEEL NOTES.

Salvator has the mile running record at 1:35½. This is safe from the wheelmen for this year, at least. J. H. Taylor has created a road record be-tween Belfast and Dublin. He covered the distance, 102 miles, in 7h. and 87m. This is not fast when the fine quality of the Irish highways is considered.

COLLINSVILLE, Ill., Oct. 10.—The Collinsville Democrats will celebrate to-morrow (Tuesday) evening when Hon. Roger Q. Mills will speak at the City Hall. The Altgeld-Ambrosius Flambeau Club will receive the distinguished Texan and escort him to

The hall at 7:30.

The Flambeau Club of Collinsville is gaining a great reputation in this campaign. They go to Vandalia, Ill. on Wednesday, Oct. 12, where they will give a drill and also a display of fireworks. Judge Altgeld in speaking of the display given at Edwardsville, Ill. last week said that this club is the finest he has seen anywhere in the State of Illinois.

Do not go traveling without a bottle of Salvation Oil. It cures a bruise at once. 25c.
